Follow me through my maze,
my mixture...
The puzzle that is ME!.
See how I am molded - molded by various tools:
my home,
my family,
my friends,
my teachers,
my school.

Defeat,
sorrow,

success,
happiness,

work,
play -

All a part of ME!

Football games, pep rallies, victory dances, math tests,
drama club, sodality,
language lab, English class, religion discussions... and yes, our

Washington Trip -
All added to produce the whole, unique me;
A more mature,
generous,
understanding me,
hopefully...

ST. MARY'S
STAFF

Msgr. Charles Demjamovich

The efforts reflected in this book express the sincere appreciation of the students for the many sacrifices made by Msgr. Charles Demjanovich for St. Mary's over the years. This dedicated individual has striven for the progress of this school and parish.

Msgr. had an addition built to the school and a new gymnasium. We can still see him presenting the trophy to the M.I.T. winners. He had the library extended, a new cafeteria built, and new facilities for the home economics room.

We shall always remember him walking through the halls, watching over the school and students, or at football games, watching his pride and joy, the band, march onto the field. We can never know the untold sacrifices made by Msgr. Charles. For memories such as these and the many unknown sacrifices for our school—we thank him.

Father Joseph Bagley, in his year and a half as principal of St. Mary's, has demonstrated the ability to shoulder the immense burdens of co-ordinating a growing educational institution, while mantaining the high standards of education characteristic of St. Mary's. We, the students of St. Mary's, wish to take this opportunity to thank Father Bagley for all his diligent efforts.

At the same time, we welcome our new pastor Father Joseph Shea. We hope his stay will be long and pleasant, and we are confident that he will maintain the fine ecucational traditions of our school.

INTERCHANGE: Those "precious" three minutes between classes provide the time to say "hello" and pick up a book from our locker.

CHRISTMAS PARTY: The annual Christmas Party, held on December 23, found upper and lower classmen joined together in the spirit of Christmas. "The Real Thing" presented by the Drama Club. added greatly to the mood of the season by coming across with a message of the true Christmas spirit. The party was graced by the appearance of Santa Claus and his elves. Gifts were distributed among the faculty and candy canes given to the "kiddies", all compliments of the Student Council.

STUDIES: A typical study class consists in completing assignments, catching up on overdue letters, or just enjoying the free period to be alone with one's thoughts.

Mike Lombardi, Kevin McNamara, George Westerdale

INITATION: Weird creatures assembled on the senior steps bedecked with balloons, garlic, baby bottles, and boots. Have no fear—it was only the class of '73 on their initiation day. The "mighty seniors" commanded their freshmen slaves to do absurd tasks and that night the best sports were crowned king and queen of the Baby Bawl.

Robert Shaw.

JUNIOR RING: On Friday October 24, 1969 the class of '71 proceeded proudly up the aisle to receive the class rings which would officially make them upperclassmen. The solemn church ceremony was concluded by the singing of the junior class song. A breakfast in the cafeteria sponsored by the mighty seniors was next on the agenda, followed that night by the junior dance.

Richard Pomo, Patricia Henkleman, Mary Avery, Anne Uhlig.

Robert Fluty and John Marsh.

SEMI-FORMAL: After months of planning the semi-formal, the "Hawaiian Luau" became a reality. This year the Student Council sponsored a cake sale some weeks before, in a successful effort to reduce the price of the bids. On the day after Thanksgiving day, a group of student councilors spent hours preparing and setting up the decorations to simulate a Hawaiian atmosphere. The whole effect was highlighted by a three dimensional volcano placed on stage, contributing significantly to the "scenery". Dancing, talking and eating made the evening pass swiftly and enjoyably.

Laura Waage and Robert Shaw.

PEP RALLY: The gym thundered with a roar of spirit in support of the big switch pulled by the mighty senior football players with the boys' varsity football cheerleaders. The girls "warmed up" for that Sunday's game with a program of calisthenics while the boys drove them on with their wild cheers. On the arrival of the basketball season the cheer was "Tame the Wildcats", a feat accomplished by the J.V. cheerleaders.

BONFIRE – JUNIOR-SENIOR GAME: As the fire blazed, the boys' varsity football cheerleaders led the student body in cheering the student body on at the bonfire and the caravan which followed. This was a fitting preparation for the start of the great football season which followed.

A few weeks later, school spirit was increased by the students' spirit at the Junior-Senior football game, the out-come of which is still a mystery.

Captain Tom Hogarty and Coach Bob Cavanaugh are all smiles after Juniors beat Sophomores for MIT Championship.

MIT GAMES: This year's MIT's brought the Freshmen and Sophomore girls together in the starting game. The Sophs chalked up the final win with a final score of 7–5.

The next week the Senior girls displayed a perfect example of pro ball as they whipped the Juniors 18–7. In the final girl's game the students again experienced the superb team work of the Class of '70, as Elaine Dubiel raked up 11 points and forced many Soph turnovers. The Seniors easily clinched the Championship title, as the Sophomores bowed, 22–8.

It was now the boys' turn to show off their basketball tactics and skills. In the opening quarter of the game it was a bitter battle between the Freshmen and Sophomores, but the Sophs were able to break loose for a 46-22 victory. After sweeping easily past the Freshmen, the Sophs looked to the Juniors. The Juniors took the game, Championship, and trophy, as they held the victorious score of 23-16.

as they together add to our

HONOR RECOGNIZES AND ACHIEVEMENTS

In the twentieth century there has been a new emphasis on the social as well as the academic aspect of education. The Marion Chapter of the National Honor Society recognizes students who are outstanding in both areas. Membership in the Society is based on a student's academic achievements, leadership, service qualities and character. The National Honor Society brings the efforts of these students to the attention of their parents, their fellows students and the colleges that they plan to attend. The induction of the members, held in March, is one of the most impressive ceremonies of the year. It is the highest honor a Secondary School can bestow on its students. This year ten per cent of the Senior class were accepted as permanent members of the National Honor Society while ten percent of the Junior and Sophomore classes became provisionary members.

Anne Uhlig accepts her certificate of membership from Father Shea.

Bells ring out at the annual Glee Club

Interested students with a talent for singing, find themselves in demand at St. Mary's. Sister Barbara, our new moderator, proved to possess patience and cleverness by her ability to motivate a Glee Club of St. Mary's size. "Christmas Bells Ring Out", the title of this year's concert, was one of the highlights of St. Mary's Glee Club. Also some of the members gave a performance at the Bergen County Jail, bringing Christmas cheer to the imprisoned. Other activities included entertaining at Monsignor Charles' farewell assembly, singing for the National Honor Induction ceremony and the Women's Club.

Flag twirlers entertain at half-time.

Our band can be compared to a trunk from which stem many branches, all with a vital function to perform. First, we have those who play instruments; without the guidance and patience given them, their talent could forever lay hidden. But instead, they are given the needed boost, and every chance for further development. Secondly, there are those who contribute in a completely different and separate way. Our flag wavers and baton twirlers add the visual effects, which, when combined with the instrumental talents, make our band a vital source of spirit at games and in parades.

Written words hold much. Memories are relived for us through publication. Our newspaper, the Corona reports the important school events and items of youthful interest. The Chrysalis, a collection of our thoughts and feelings expressed in poetry, prose, and art, exemplifies the literary achievements of our creative students. Through photography Veritas captures our school life recalling our days together. The creative people on these three staffs have given us something we can always treasure, read and remember.

Oral communication

When confronted with a problem, you attempt to reach a solution. But that solution is only part of the answer; for if you cannot communicate it to others, its as if you had no solution at all.

Language is the basis of all communication. The study of a foreign language expands your knowledge of other mediums of expression.

Forensic teaches the presentation and development of ideas. Through competition and everyday application, it too builds bridges for understanding. In events ranging from the Northern New Jersey Student Congress to the National Catholic Forensic Leagues' Grand Tournament in Miami, league members compare their training to that of other students from across the nation.

To meet your abilities you must share them. Our Drama Club, moderated by Sister Francis Aileen, does just this. While having a good time, each drama club member is contributing something of himself, making the club's production a success. The Drama Club started off the year with many newcomers who helped with the Christmas Play "The Real Thing". All worked together with our first big production "The Desperate Hours," presented to the public in April.

The Art Club is designed for those who have potential talent and wish to develop it. Members are kept busy with poster contests, sign-making, decorations for school activities and various other projects.

Monitoring and eventual sending of short-wave messages is the main purpose of the Mechanical Engineering Students' Society. Knowledge is shared in the setting up of radio receiving stations, and QSL cards (verification of stations monitored) are received. The total number of cards place us in competition with other monitoring stations. Sister Patricia Ann advises in the reception of short-wave broadcasts.

The course of the Math Club this year has been an entire study of the subject inside the classroom. New computer methods involving bases, modular arithmetic and approximation were explored. Sister Agnes Mary presented differential and integral calculus, explaining how these methods are put to use in the computer world.

Library , History and Business Clubs

offer new worlds to explore

Individual interests are easily satisfied at S.M.H. If you have a career as a secretary in mind, you'll find friends with the same idea in the Business Club. The goal of the Business Club is to prepare the future businessmen to meet the needs of our times.

Many students have a greater interest in their social studies since S.M.H. has initiated a History Club where students can get together to share their common interests in History and current events. In this way, S.M.H. develops her students' minds and introduces them to the more interesting aspects of History and social problems.

Our knowledge and understanding of the world about us can be extended through books. Reading can be an enjoyable pastime because its field is so vast. The Library Club takes the time to prepare these books, and make them more available to everyone.

The Chess Club, moderated by Mr. Majewski and headed by a capable body of officers, enjoyed a successful year. Greater interest was generated by an attachment of point values to game played. A tournament was slated for mid- May.

The future Nurses club, under Miss Cephas is composed of students interested in nursing or some other related career. The group has visited hospitals and other cities pertinent to the nursing profession and features interesting guest speakers at their meetings.

The Ski Club is a new addition to the list of extracurricular activities here at St. Mary's. Its membership is comprised of students with a love for skiing or an interest in learning how to ski. A ski trip to Great Gorge was enjoyed by all and other activities for the year included a trip to Vermont.

S.M.H. 1969 Football Team

The 1969 football team, under new head coach Rich Higgins, brought back the winning style to Saint Mary's. Coming out of the depths of the '68 season the well disiplined Gaels compiled a 6-2 record.

Quaterback Jim Von Doehren and running backs Larry Bocage and Ed Guy formed the backbone of the offensive team while pass receivers Rick Caputo and Jim Brindle complemented the running attack.

The agressive defense was spearheaded by stalwart linebackers Dan Connors, Rich Gioscia, Tim Mc Neilly and John Reid. This plus the outstanding play of Al Di Petrillo, Mike Jurkowski and Bill Weiss rounded out the defense.

Amid the glamour of the season our beloved coach Bob Blum, suddenly passed away leaving behind the reality of his great work at Saint Mary's.

The 1969-70 Gaels disproved many critics as they forged ahead to a 13-9 season. From the start the Gaels displayed the winning form that carried them to victory. The backcourt wizardy of Ed Guy and Jim Von Doehren added to the scoring of Steve Walters and rebounding strength of Roy Ziek and Pete Keenan provided the necessary combination. The team was complimented by Jim Schak and Bill Weiss.

Strong incentive was provided by the know-how of coach Charles Agel and assistant coach Joe Waldyka. Special recognition is given to manager Ray Floriani for his four years of assistance.

Saint Mary's Gaelettes through endless spirit and teamwork have had a winning season under the guidance of their new coach Miss Gloria Cephas and assistant coach Mary Costantini. The girls have achieved a 3-3 record in the division A standing of the Catholic Girl's League and have an overall record of 7-6.

High scoring honors this year will go to Co-captain Mary Ellen Manney and Donna Savage who spurred the team on to victory. Assisting in offensive rebounds, good ball handling and scoring was Jane Ferrone, a new comer to the team and one of the co-captains. Credited also with a good part of the scoring was sophomore, Gail Wilhelm, who was an assist to the team defensive playing, Junior Debbie Dowd was also responsible for the good ball handling and scoring.

Controlling the defensive boards were Bernie Finneran and Nancy Owen.

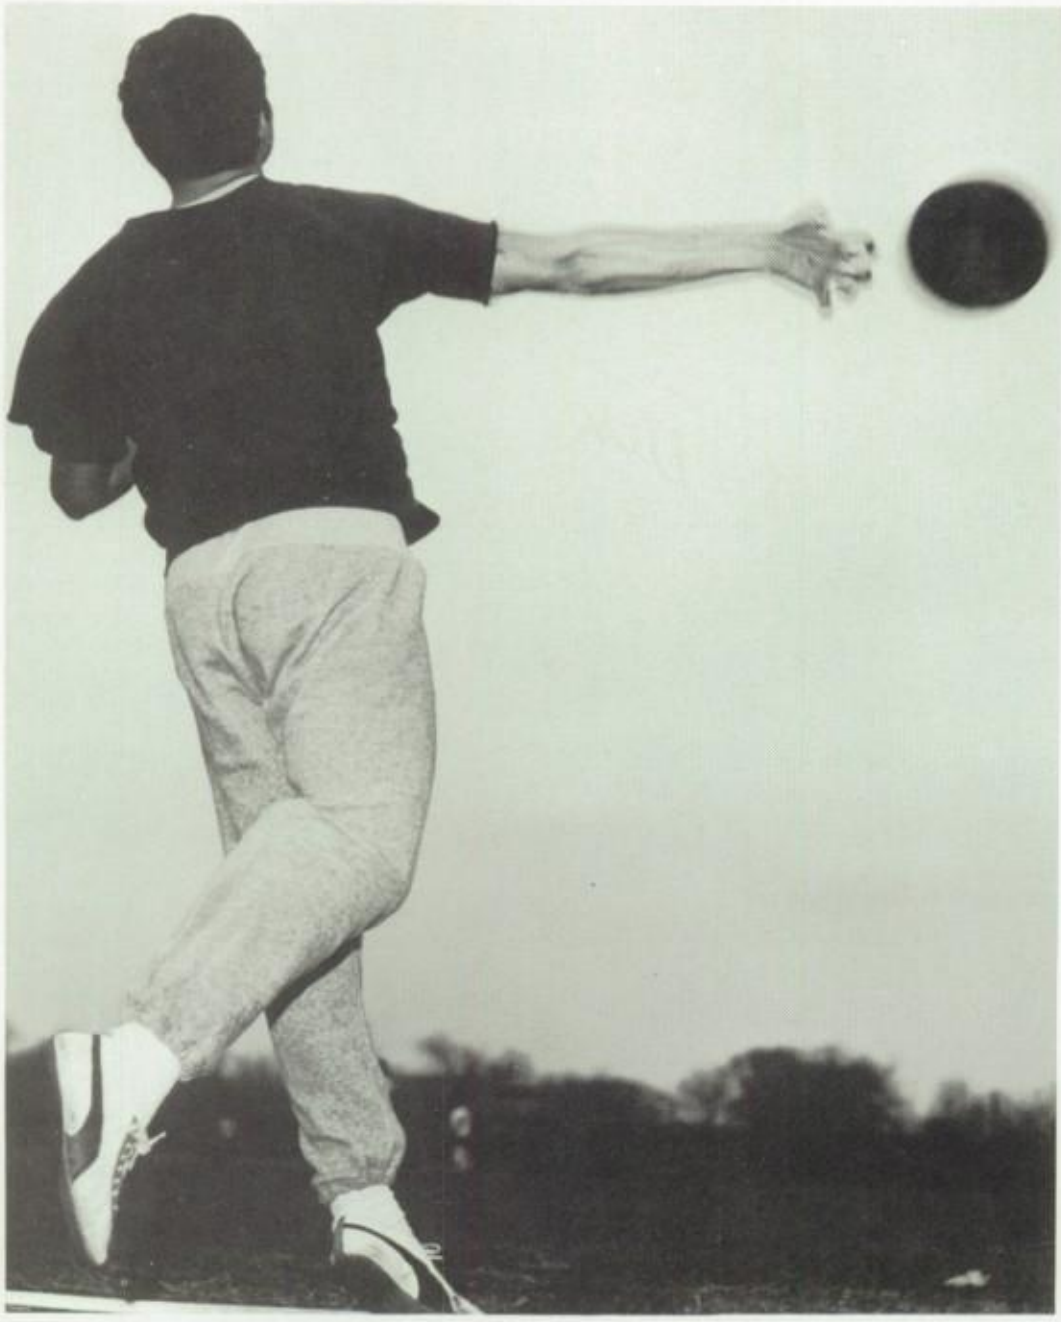
Varsity Football Cheerleaders–Spirit is the name of the game.

The cheerleaders of Saint Mary's High, moderated by Sister Maureen, have continued to promote spirit in the players as well as the student body. Cheerleading is divided into the following: Freshmen, J.V. and Varsity.

This year the pep rallies were more lively because of the combined efforts of these sections. Some highlights were the burying of Our Lady of the Valley, the switching of roles of Senior Football Players and Cheerleaders, the taming of the Wildcats, and the mimicking of 1920 cheerleaders.

Other activities included a bonfire, caravan, dance and selling of spirit buttons. These funds will be used to purchase uniforms and enable some girls to attend a cheerleading clinic.

BOYS VARSITY CHEERLEADERS, STANDING: Nancy Stevens, Kathy Fox, Kathy Custer, Mary Ellen Kiselick, Maureen Parks, Joan Marie Schwarz. KNEELING: Kathy Murtha, Denice Bohn, Ann Uhlig, Eileen O'Donoghue.



Al DiPetrillo

Coming on to take the reins of the Saint Mary's track team is coach Rich Higgins. Higgins has exceptional talent in Larry Bocage and Rick Caputo, the top sprinters and top point men on the team. Rich Mariano adds depth in the short runs, while Tim McNielly leads the way in the long distance contests.

Providing a strong foundation in the field events are Bob Sansevere, Al DiPetrillo and Dennis Temme. Combining all this talent with fine coaching, 1970 promises to be a number one season for the Gael Cindermen.

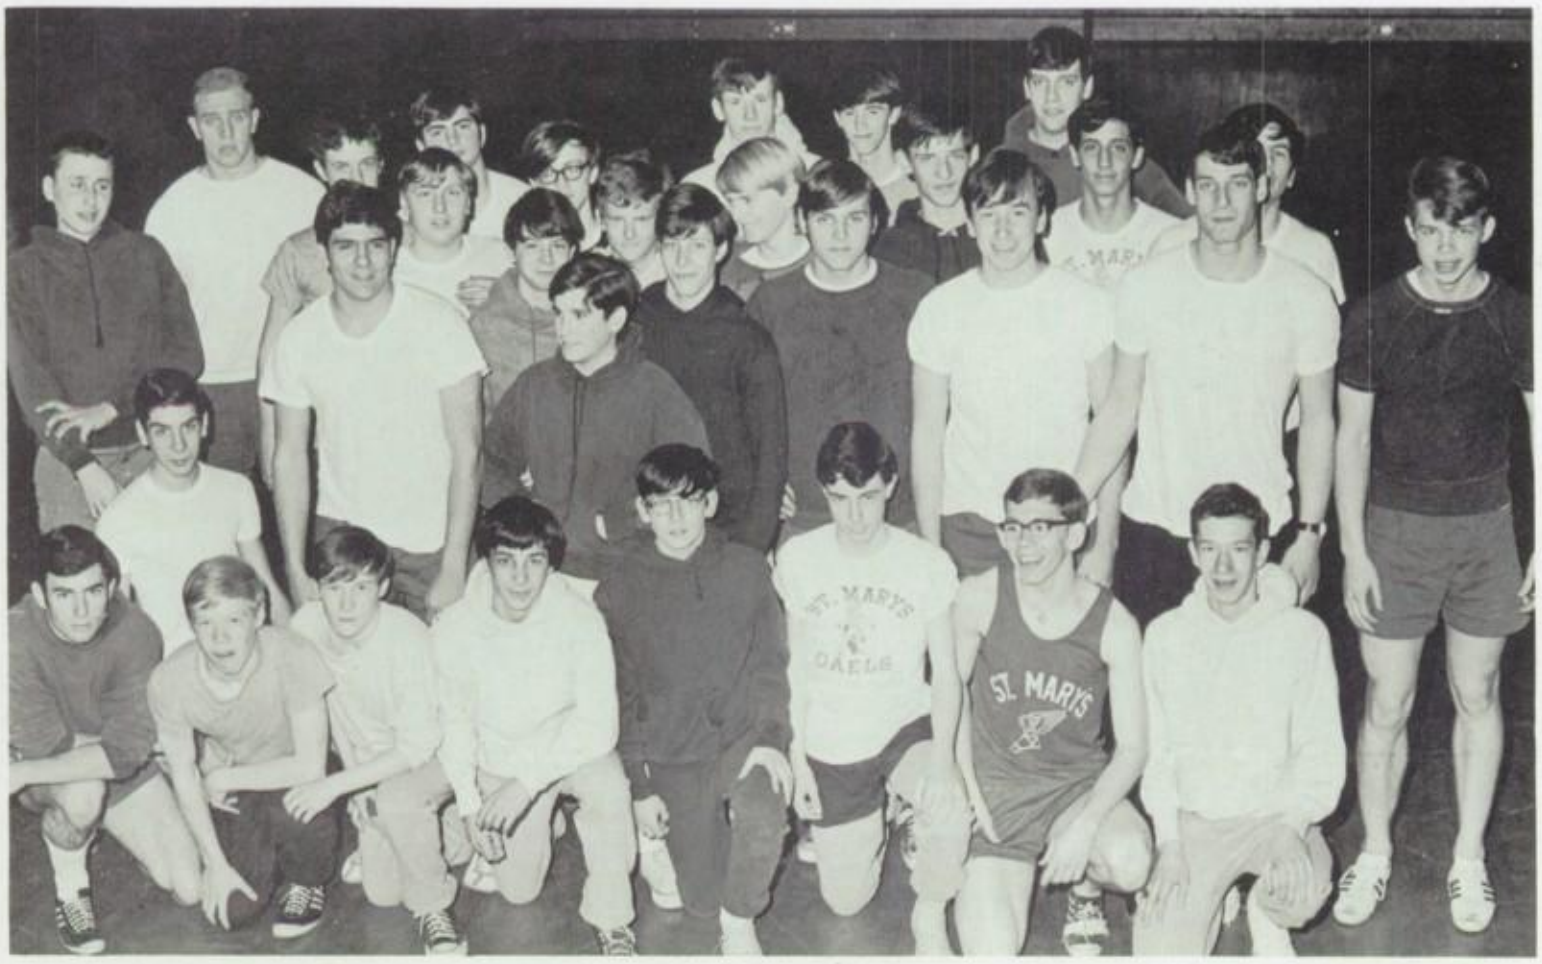
LOOK FORWARD

SEASON



S.M.H. Track Team

Me, Myself,
        and I.
As I walk briskly up the senior steps I ask
    myself,
Do I know what it's like to be unique,
The way God made me?
I am so many persons in one:
        loud,
            pesty,
                meditative,
                    laughable,
                        likeable–
                            sometimes.

I want to shout–
    "Will the real "me" please stand up?"
Bells ring, I am forced back into reality Pushing through familiar halls,
Greeting friends, exchanging smiles.
The day goes so fast!
Classes–
    interchanges– locker breaks– library passes– study hall–
                    dismissal bell– downtown.
I can barely recall it all
But it's a part of Me . . .
Lost in a crowd
Yet found within myself,
Like the piece of a puzzle
They come together to form the "real" me.

1970 Class Song ("My Cup Runneth Over")

When we were just Freshmen
You all can recall
The time for maturing had come to us all Starry-eyed, awe-filled kids in a class
Our memories fade into the past.

When we were just Sophomores
Our world did expand
Older yet needing a strong guiding hand
It took time to realize that problems don't last
Our memories fade into the past.

When we were all Juniors
That day was OUR day
We're all upperclassmen
We're all on our way
We waited so long; it goes by so fast
Our memories fade into the past.

And now we are Seniors
The time's come to part
Keep all of your memories so close to your heart
Remember those moments that went by so fast
Our memories fade into the past.

In only a moment
This all will be through Tomorrow will be a yesterday too.
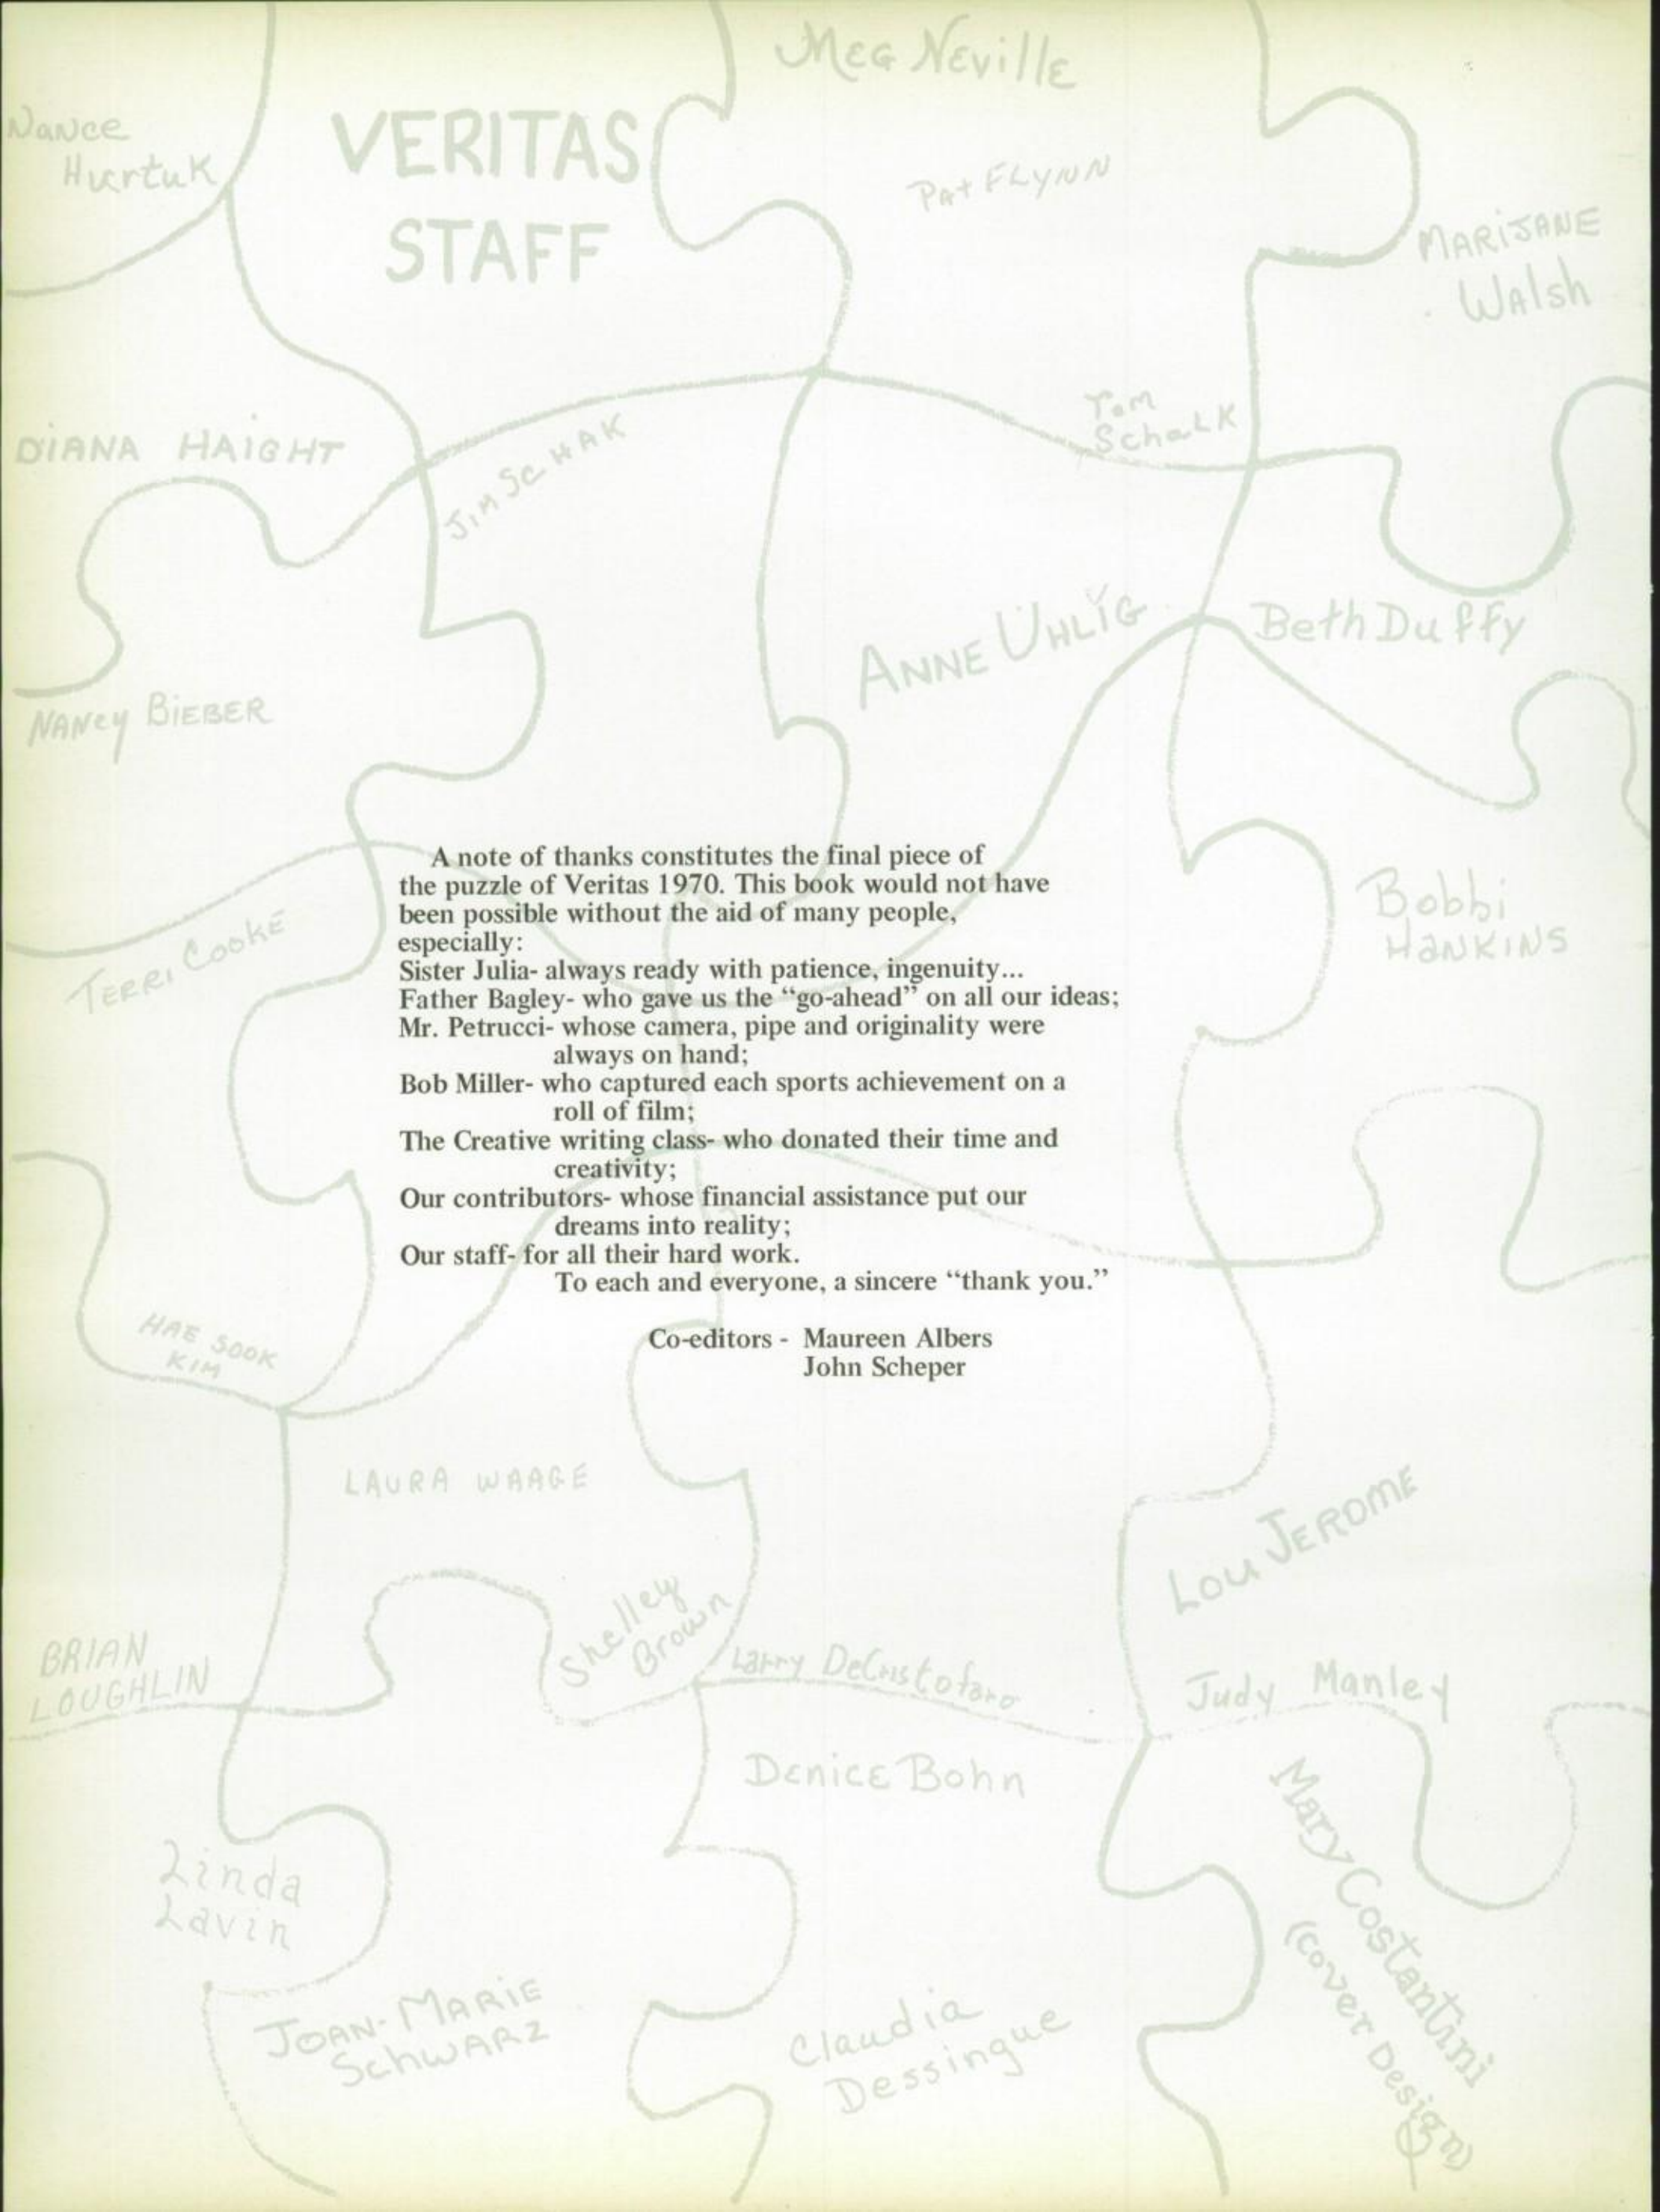
These times together will be our last
Our memories fade into the past.



A note of thanks constitutes the final piece of the puzzle of Veritas 1970. This book would not have been possible without the aid of many people, especially:

Sister Julia- always ready with patience, ingenuity...

Father Bagley- who gave us the "go-ahead" on all our ideas;

Mr. Petrucci- whose camera, pipe and originality were always on hand;

Bob Miller- who captured each sports achievement on a roll of film;

The Creative writing class- who donated their time and creativity;

Our contributors- whose financial assistance put our dreams into reality;

Our staff- for all their hard work.

To each and everyone, a sincere "thank you."
